KURA YANGU SAUTI YANGU PRESS STATEMENT

After an orderly voting process, Kenya's 2017 elections has degenerated into a now familiar problem. The announcement of completely unverifiable results will, if unaddressed, create serious political instability.

The primary problem is the announcement of results. The manner in which results are to be handled was the subject of political negotiations that led to amendments to the Elections Act late last year. In accordance with the amendment, the IEBC is required to transmit, in the prescribed form—that is, Form 34—tabulated results from a polling station to the Constituency Tallying Centre and the National Tallying Centre. The law also requires that the IEBC shall publish the Form 34As on its online portal.

However, since it started announcing results yesterday, the IEBC has not made available, as required by law, any copies of the Form 34As on its public portal. It is not only opaque but it also means the results the IEBC has announced are not based on any verifiable results.

There is also concern that the Form 34As were not made publicly displayed at all polling stations around the country, as is also required by law. This has further affected the transparency of these elections.

Some examples, from evidence in our possession, suffice to make the point:

1. Nairobi County, Dagoretti North, Kilimani Ward. Kilimani Primary School Polling Centre, Stream 10. Form 34A has no rejected votes recorded, but the portal shows 4 rejected votes. Form 34A shows total valid 508 (this is incorrect math). IEBC showed total valid votes as 504 (this is correct math).
2. Nairobi County. Langata. South C. Kewi South C Polling Station Stream 1. Form 34A shows RO with 224 votes. IEBC shows 203 for RO. Total valid votes on Form 34A shows 439 (this math is correct). IEBC shows 416 (this math is wrong).
3. Nandi County, Nandi Hills Constituency, Nandi Hills Ward. Our Lady of Peace Secondary School Polling Station, Stream 1. Rejected votes on form 34A were 9. IEBC shows rejected votes as 439.

Co-Conveners

4. In Kipchebor Polling Station, Ainamoi Constituency in Kericho County, Form 34A shows that Uhuru Kenyatta got 284 votes and Raila Odinga 169. However, the portal shows Uhuru Kenyatta with 288 and Odinga 164, suggesting that four votes were subtracted from Odinga and added to Kenyatta.

5. Kisumu County, Kisumu Central, Market Milimani. Kenyatta Sports Grounds Tents Stream 4. Form 34A shows 507 valid votes cast. IEBC says 504 valid votes cast. Form 34A shows 0 rejected. IEBC says Akuot got 1 vote. Form 34A shows 0 for Akuot. Form 34A shows Nyagah with 0 votes but IEBC shows 2 votes for Nyagah. Form 34A shows UK with 17 votes but IEBC shows 19 votes for UK. IEBC shows RO with 482 votes but 34A shows 490.

We therefore call upon the IEBC:

- To respect the law and;
- Make publicly available the Forms 34A;
- Restrain from making an illegal declaration of outcomes before all Forms 34A are available and tallies from the Constituency Tallying Centres are all in.
- We also call upon all regional and international observers to exercise caution and restraint before pronouncing themselves on matters they know nothing about.
